

Nancy Wallace, Vice President of Innovation and Strategy

Ms. Wallace has more than 20 years of hands on experience working in over 35 countries has developed in-depth knowledge of business practices in regions worldwide, extensive experience of market development activities, and expertise in project design and management. Her range of experiences has included work in economic impact, market analysis, training, site selection, permits, licensing and certification, immigration procedures, financial incentives, technology and manufacturing support.

Ms. Wallace has held a variety of position in private sector companies, NGOs and government agencies. These included High Street Partners', Inc., Director of International Operations for the state of Maryland, and Stanley Associates, Inc. Most recently, on special assignment from Computer Frontiers, Ms. Wallace served as Country Director for Women's Campaign International for Liberia where she establish their office and implemented a multi-million dollar project to provide business and leadership. She has proven her ability to work effectively in multi-cultural environments, manage diverse staff and meet financial goals.